Dedicated to

MRS. ESTHER C. CLARK

We the class of 1951 take great pride in dedicating our Yearbook, "The Torch," to Mrs. Esther C. Clark.

Although Mrs. Clark has labored and worked with our class to accomplish many activities, she has never appeared in the limelight seeking praise or public acclaim.

In addition to her English and French classes, and her duties as school librarian, she has directed our Senior Class Play, and has given us endless help and guidance in the planning of our Yearbook. She has been a wonderful class advisor and an inspiration to all who have worked with her.

To show our sincere appreciation for all these things, named and un-named, we proudly make this dedication.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Class of '51:

You are part of an age that seems to be forgetting that the country in which you live became great because people in other days believed in personal responsibilities, individual duties, steadfast loyalty, complete honesty, common courtesy, reverent religion, genuine humility. These are but a few of the concepts which make a people great and are the ideals which you are expected to accept and practice.

The faculty and I wish to congratulate you on the successful passing of this milestone in your educational progress. Our best wishes go with each one of you.

Three class trips a year.

All tests to be open-book tests.

Electric score board to be used during gym classes.

Class Song

Our days at Norco High are o'er;
We bid a fond farewell,
Though we'll see her no more,
Still we will always tell
Of all the fun we had in high school
With our teachers and our friends;
Of days at dear old Norco,
Whose mem'ries never end.

Chorus

Norco High, we'll miss you;
You've shared our joys and woe.
You've stood by us in time of need;
Our victories you know.
So as we leave your doors to pass
Into a troubled world,
Those dreams you've given to our class,
We'll cherish and we'll hold.

We leave with sad and heavy hearts;
We go from those we love.
And as we now depart,
We thank you dear old school
For all the things that you have taught us—
To guide us on our ways,
To give us hope and courage
For use in future days.

Class Poem

Comes the time when we must now depart
From our friends who were faithful in the past.
Though we leave you with a heavy heart,
Fond mem'ries of our school will ever last.

We shall remember all the fun we've had--
The joys and sorrows we have shared.
You know we never meant to be really bad;
When you think of us, you'll know we cared.

We'll remember the subdued laughter in the halls,
As patrol boys stood on guard to watch us pass--
A bit of nonsense in study period--then duty to us calls
To make hurried preparation for that next class.

We thank the teachers who have helped us grow,
And have given us courage to do the right.
We'll not forget you, now that it's time to go.
We will show you that we can win life's fight.

When, at long last, all our years in school
Are climaxed by this one day in spring,
We'll always remember our class rule
"Be not good for nothing; be good for something."

Class Will

We, the Senior Class of North Coventry High School, in the county of Chester, State of Pennsylvania, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, do hereby make, publish and declare this our last will and testament in manner following, that is to say:

LORRIN BEIDLER wills to his brother Jim the position of half-back on the football team.

PAUL BODOLUS wills his football uniform to John Kreps. If John gains about two hundred pounds, he will fill it comfortably.

GARY BUCKWALTER bequeaths his lack of interest in girls to Wayne Palmer, who has "woman" trouble.

JANE CAMACHO leaves her vocal ability to Nancy Grandesh, so the Glee Club will be assured of a soloist for next year.

BETTY COOPER wills her position as Mr. Grim's assistant secretary to Rosalie Bitler.

ROBERT CRESSMAN leaves to John Smith his well-trained pompadour and his gracefulness on the dance floor.

OSCAR DARLINGTON our capable class president, bequeaths his tact, cheerfulness and good will to William Keymer. If William gets this difficult position he will need these qualities to cope with the troubles of this position.

To the boys who have "car trouble," JOHN D'LUZEN wills his mechanical ability.

So that Mr. Alderfer will have something to look forward to, MARJORIE FRAIN wills her argumentative nature to Betty Jane Loughin.

NADINE FRAIN wills her dainty little figure to Phillip Lang.

JOYCE GILES wills her height to Jeanette Smith, to aid the latter to become a forward.

MARY HANSLEY wills her knowledge of diseases and medicine to Helen Hatcher, so that "I I" may be prepared for next year's health classes.

MARCEA HOHL wills her book "How To Catch Your Mate" and its sequel, "How to Hold Him," to Joan Buckwalter.

ROBERT ICKES wills his crew cut to Jane Shaner, who seems to have trouble getting to classes on time after gym class.

In order to relieve Mrs. Shreehouse from future worries, JAMES JONES bequeaths to Richard Yocum the position of treasurer of the F. F. A.

WILLIAM JONES bequeaths his array of "arguments for every occasion" to Mary Kazmer.

CHARLES LAMBOUR wills his angelic expression to Ralph Hohl.

JUNE LAVERTY bequeaths her studiousness to her brother Donald. Some day or, too, Donald, may be on the Honor Roll.

THOMAS MAUGER bequeaths his ability at shop work and in mechanical drawing to Oliver Prihamek.

HEBER MCGOWAN leaves to William McKee his position as president of the F. F. A. along with his faithfulness to the duties of this office.

MARY JANE MCGOWAN leaves her talkativeness and her burning ambition to get the highest mark in bookkeeping to Helen Read.

PEARL McMULLEN leaves to Cleo Brown the pleasant smile which helped her to be the first senior to acquire a diamond.

Class Will

CHARLES MURRAY wills his talent for handling in late book reports, along with all the penalty assignments, to Laine Keeler.

JANET NIMMERICHTER bequeaths her short stature to Donald Sheasley.

JEAN OLEXA wills her curls and her personality to her brother Jim.

If the chair is still intact at the end of the term, ARTHUR QUACKENBOS leaves his seat at Grandy's during lunch hour to Tom Bishop, who will probably soon wear it out.

EDITH RICHARDS wills her skill in Home Ec. to Shirley Manger. Edith will still have plenty of ability to keep house for Sonny.

GEORGE ROADCAP bequeaths his proficiency in Trig. to Gene Clemens. If "Jip" feels that this bequest will not help him, he may refuse it.

MELVIN SCHEIDT wills the secret of getting his picture in the Mercury to any underclassmen who like to pose in the muddy waters of the Schuylkill.

RICHARD SMITH wills to Leon Kellar his ability to doze through fifty percent of a class period and still maintain good grades.

SHIRLEY STAUFFER wills her office of secretary of the class to Marilyn Berrickker, whose nerves may be good enough to stand the strain of this position.

ELMA STOUTT leaves her giggle to Jane Cisarik, who at times seems to be in need of good cheer.

ANNIE THOMPSON gladly relinquishes her duties as class treasurer to Barbara Edly, hoping Barbara will be spared some of the headaches of this job.

DONALD TYSON bequeaths his well-groomed appearance and sophisticated manner to Fance Baker.

FRANCIS WAMPTER leaves the position of captain of the football squad to Bill Rhymer, with best wishes for many victories next fall.

ROBERT YERGBY leaves his skill in bookkeeping to all those unfortunate juniors who are in need of help.

To the Class of '52 in addition to the bequests already mentioned, we leave Room 9, in all its glory. You will particularly enjoy the battered piano, and the desks carved with the initials of our class and those who preceded us. We leave you three advisors who will really set you straight on financial matters. We also leave to you the victrola that will play any kind of records that you fancy, and the typing room, with the equipment necessary to put out the Norco News on time. Best of all, we leave you the honor of being a senior in North Coventry High School.

In witness whereof, we have hereunto subscribed our name and set our seal this nineteenth day of March in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and fifty-one.

Senior Class of 1951

Oscar Darlington, President

The foregoing instrument was given in our presence, signed, sealed, published, and declared by the Class of '51, the testator named herein, as and for its last will and testament, whereupon we, the undersigned, at its request, and in their presence and in the presence of each other, have hereunto subscribed our names as witnesses thereto:

Esther C. Clark

Jessie M. Delp

Alvin S. Alderfer

"GHOST WANTED"

Hugo Bromley (Donald Tyson), a young man out of a job, and Jeffrey Hall (Charles Lambour), his associate in many not-too-successful business ventures, answer an ad in the local paper which reads "Ghost Wanted." In applying they become acquainted with Ginger (Flora Stordis) and Gale (Victoria George Storingay), the vivacious daughters of Granby Kate (Edith Richards), owner of the "ghosted house"—Rumour of Rock. Granby's sudden love for voodooism and the recommendation of Professor of Voodoo (William Jones) and his weird and mysterious assistant, Madame Zoga (Jacin Camacho), led Ginger to run the ad as a possible means of curing her.

The Professor says he is able to commune with Simon Gore, a drowned fisherman who once visited the island. Madame Zoga claims to have power over the dead and to be able to cure a zombie. Granby seems to believe these assertions implicitly.

The four young people plan to have Hugo impersonate Simon Gore, zombie and one means for it reveal the Professor and Madame Zoga as phony. The scheme backfires, however, when others arrange for Simon's manifestation before the youngsters can put their plan to work. Now a new problem faces them—to discover how the various appearances of the zombie are accomplished and by whom.

Matters are ever more complicated by the mysterious disappearance of Bradshaw (Melva Schmitt), the sheriff, and by the intervention of Nora Vane (Anne Thompson), an aggressive investigator from the mainland, brought to the island by Azada (Jean Olexa), a haughty woman from the nearby village, in her smugly boat. Hatcher (Robert Cressman), the Storingays' houseman, is to help them, for he seems determined to leave the island, but the practical codger (Maurice Healy) and cook in the house look him up. That he doesn't stay locked up is revealed when Jeffrey discovers a secret path connecting several passageways through the house, one of which is accessible from the room in which Hatcher is locked.

Jeffrey's discovery leads to the eventual solution of the mystery, but only after a stormy climax caused by the success of Hugo's remarkable impersonation of Simon Gore and to reveal that Granby Kate had known all along that the Professor and Madame Zoga were Government agents. And so the little island, which was to have served a foreign spy ring with Hatcher at its end as a safe hide-out, and listening post is restored to its former peace and quiet. Hugo and Jeffrey decide that the ghost business isn't so bad if it can introduce them to such charming companions as Ginger and Gale promise to be.

"CLEMENTINE"

In the short interval between the excitement of the football season and the oncoming basketball game, the crowd presented their play, the three-act comedy, "Clementine," by Peggy Goodman, on December 10th and 11th. The actors of the play, which takes place in Mayor Kelly's home in Hester Vale, centers around finding Clementine Kelly, real sisterly girl away in El Paso. She would rather play football than come up and go to a party. A very George played the role of the Aunt, her mother, Mary Kelly, who has a hard time keeping up with her daughter's changing moods and explaining them to Mayor Kelly. Donald Tyson did a good job of acting the influential, excessive mayor, who is in the mood of campaigning for reelection and finds a girl who is the whole thing. The regulars, on other hand, Mrs. Lillian P. Pogue (Anne Thompson), president of the Women Voters' League and very influential in the votes for Mayor Kelly are concerned.

In the high school "gang" is handsome Hank Matthews, played by Charles Lambour, whom Clem never noticed until Cathy asked if he was a good prospect. Joe Ann is the girl up at the show, who is constantly giving information which she knows. These two real teenagers were acted by Joe Campbell and Nudie Brown. Melba Strickland as Cathy, a high school senior, is an audience with her own of a scene. The play is a comedy of manners. Clem that the football team is voted not to play with them. In an effort to get over Clem, who ever there in an oratorical contest. Handyman Abe Carter advises her in all matters, from football to love problems. Phil Jones was a referee for the play, always ready to offer some dry humor. A lot of philosophy. The maid, Betty, Mary Jane McGowan also gives plenty of the problems of the Kelly family. Mrs. Kelly engages charming Ann McNell (Pearl McMichael) to give Clem character. In the meantime Cathy is trying to decide whether to go to the Spring Formal with her man Pete (Robert Yergey) or with Hank.

Clem decides that parties aren't so silly and that boys may be interesting. She changes her tactics and makes Hank realize that she can get a tennis. Mrs. Lillian P. Pogue, who is the president of the Women's League, is the one who votes for Mayor Kelly. In addition to the good work of the cast, much credit must be given to the help of the stage committee, the more common seniors and prompters.

Class Prophecy

Winnie and Wicky Mouse glanced at the calendar one bright morning, June 5, 1976. "Wicky," Winnie examined, "at twenty-five years ago today, the class of 1951 graduated at Norco. I wonder what has become of all those boys and girls. We used to have congenial talks with them in Room 9."

"Yes," replied Wicky, "I wonder, too. Let's drive over and see Beega Eva. He has a Bureau of Missing Persons; and, if he doesn't know where they are, he can soon locate them."

Beega, who had come from the planet Jupiter, had invented a screen which could show a view at the turn of a button. With the help of the screen, he located the class members and Winnie and Wicky saw their former Norco friends pursuing all sorts of interesting vocations.

RETTY COOPER, who enjoyed doing secretarial work while in school, is now working for a famous cowboy singer. Besides taking dictation and typing, he sings with the band in all important moments.

The second picture flashed on the screen was that of JOHN D'LIZEN. John was interested in mechanics while he was in school and liked to work on his little Cressy. So they were not surprised to find him in a toy factory, manufacturing piston rings for little toy cars.

To Winnie's delight, she saw that MARGIE FRAIN, who was a whiz when it came to farming, was riding on a tractor cultivating her miles and miles of corn rows. Margie sells all her corn to ANNIE THOMPSON'S Pop Corn Company. Annie handles the cash transactions and now she has nothing keeping to do for her own business.

Wicky was interested in the next picture, in which NADINE FRAIN was the main attraction. Beega told him that Nadine always wanted to become a hairdresser, so she finished a course at Monsieur Pierre's (ROBERT YERGENY'S) famed Salon of Hair Beauty for Women. Bobby always was an authority on hair styles. Getting back to Nadine, they found her giving permanent waves to Scotty dogs and French poodles.

The next scene was one of East Main Street. Becoming curious, Wicky and Winnie moved a little closer to the screen. Soon they heard a motor and into view came VICTORIA GEORGE. Vicki, who followed the family tradition by going into the restaurant business, was riding on a motor propelled scooter ice cream wagon. Beega informed them that she had become very prosperous and had recently purchased the mansion of Baron MELVIN von SCHLEDT. Melvin always wanted to be a clown, and his wish was granted. He is now well known and because of his ability to get along with people, he has left the United States to become an Ambassador of Good Will to Lower Stollavia.

When a drive-in jewelry store came into view, it was only natural to see CHARLES LAMBORR managing it. Since he owns the store, he specializes in giving discounts to all his fellow classmates who have Fords. He also caters to many famous people, among them MARY HANSLEY, who is the star of the TV show "What Are We Arguing About?" She is in the United States Senate Team, and does some filibustering in the Senate in her spare time.

After FRANCIS WAMPLER graduated from high school, he went to college and majored in physical education. His greatest desire was to become a gym teacher. So when they found themselves viewing a reducing salon for women on Fifth Avenue, Wicky and Winnie knew that the owner and operator must be the one and only "Masseur" Wampler. For three and a half hours a day he treats his patrons in football calisthenics, because he believes that this exercise is the best way to reduce.

Wicky thought Plato would be interested in JOYCE GILES' newly established profession. Joyce, after she retired from the athletic world, took up knitting as a hobby and now has a profitable business knitting little sweaters for St. Bernards.

When Beega tuned in the next person, Winnie's eyes nearly popped, for on the screen was none other than WILLIAM JONES. Bill excelled in ballet during his childhood, but no one ever thought he would become the star of the Broadway hit "The Dying Swan." Bill has the part of the swan and it is rumored that a Hollywood talent scout has his eye on him.

Class Prophecy

Wicky Wicky saw a television station appear next to thought the wires must have crossed. But, it was Herbert McGOWAN, capturing the red effort. He has a 15-second contract with the "Kao Shampoo Company" advertising their product on T.V.

Beega also related to Wicky and Winnie what he had seen when he went on his vacation. There he saw a lady who he knew well, he found a name that seemed very familiar to him. It was one of the names of his own MARY JANE McGOWAN. "Georgina Mary" has a top rating at GEORGE ROADCAP. Working Area at "Tires Co. Be-Tee Sea". George has fared so well in this venture that he has taken over and is president of Rambling Motors, Inc.

Next reported what seemed to be a girls big league basketball game. And into focus came JANET NIMMERICKER who surprised everyone by adding two feet to her height. Janet is the star center of the Bloomer Girls' Basketball Team.

Beega turned a few fellows and Wicky and Winnie saw a new middle-class school come into view. But the big surprise was to see EDDIE RICHARDS as principal of this school known as the Moroccan Miracle. They also saw that Eddie had her hand full taking care of all her former classmates' children.

While Beega was adjusting a tube in his invention, Winnie started to read a New York newspaper. An article "Advice to the Lovelorn" caught her eye; and, no wonder, for the advisor was PEARL McMULLEN. Pearl's marriage has been so successful that they for see an authenticity of the subject.

Beega broke in just then to inform them he would have to call the repair company for a new tube. He thought it would be a good idea to call and had them send the part over on a jet-copter. When the voice at the other end of the telephone answered with a "Good afternoon. This is the You-Wish-It-Well-It-Constructs Company. Anything repaired while you wait, or you get a free trip to the moon," he recognized the voice as that of JUNE LAVERTY. June had been under-estimated as a woman to become a telephone operator in a matter of months, so he decided to combine the two. She now operates of the big repair company and also supervises the deterioration of any dog houses sent to be repaired.

When the show was coming over again, Wicky and Winnie heard someone singing a lullaby. JANE CAMARHO announced she was to become a singer. Her wish was fulfilled since she got a job at the "Claw and Paw, Cat and Dog Hospital," singing the kittens to sleep.

Meanwhile, Winnie was wondering what had become of MARCIA ROHR. They located Marcia on the net. They knew she had been married right after graduation, but what they didn't expect to see was Marcia raising after two sets of twins and one set of triplet. She helps support ROBERT CRESSMAN, who manufactures "Jimmy's Jack Shoes for the Wee Folks". But also runs a dancing school, where he teaches the old maid and the bachelors how to tango, in the hope of finding a suitable "partner."

When Wicky heard a new recording sound, he thought something was wrong with the set again, but it was nothing, because the sound came from the Dixie Cream Dough Shop. OSCAR DARLING, EDN, who was used to mending the table with his president's gift, now has put this practice to profit. He works at the Dixie Cream Shop putting holes into the doughnuts.

Wicky's eye caught peeped this time, when he saw a calendar with pictures of beautiful girls. HARRY BELLEGER, the agent of the class, was there. He has a permanent position with "Esquire Magazine" filling the jars of paint for the illustrators.

Wondering what had become of ELMIA STOUT, they faced in the Tyson Insurance Agency.

Class Prophecy

Here they learned that she has a mistress of her own. Inaugurating RICHARD SMITH's new occupation. He has a famous chain store in which he sells sleeping pills to students who can't fall asleep during an interesting class.

When Wicky asked about CHARLES LEYKER, Winnie remembered that she had seen him when she went to the market that morning. Charles had always been interested in carving figures out of wood, so it was no surprise when Winnie told them he was now carving figures in the City Market.

CHARLES MURRAY spent his time after school at his farm raising pigs and chickens. One day he decided to cross the pigs with the chickens, and now is spending the millions he made by being the first to get "ham and eggs" at the same time.

Winnie and Wicky turned to the screen, just in time to see a flash of JAMES JONES, an internationally famous member of the Metropolitan Troupe. After his success in the P. F. A. operetta "Down in the Valley," Jim desired to star in Metropolitan Opera. This wish was fulfilled, for, even though he doesn't sing, he helps the dressmaker to alter the singer's costumes.

It was difficult to recognize the next character because of the big top hat and the long coat. A closer scrutiny showed that it was PAUL BOBOLUS. Before he joined the Navy, Paul worked at the DeSot Plating Works in South Pitt town. When he was discharged from the Navy, he went back to his old job. He saved so much money that he finally bought the plant from the owner.

When Beega turned in DONALD TYSON, they found him hard at work as a line man in the Philadelphia Electric Company. Donald really gets a "charge" out of his work.

JEAN OLEXA's greatest desire was to join the Waves. She did so, but was greatly disappointed because the waves of the sea made her so sick that she had to get off the ship. She disembarked at a Pacific island, where she met a chief of a cannibal tribe and soon became "Queen of the Savages."

As expected, SHIRLEY STAUFFER joined the WAVES in order to be near Jiggs, but decided that flying was too strenuous for her. Winnie said Shirley had finally settled down to housekeeping for her flier-husband and raising airmen for the U. S. Air Force.

Beega told Winnie that one day when he was in Hopewell Park, he came upon ROBERT DICKES feeding the squirrels. Bob is overseer of all the animals, and in his spare time gives swimming lessons to the Campfire Girls.

Suddenly there was a roaring sound, like that of a jet plane flying low. They all ran to the window just in time to see THOMAS MAUGER taking the corner on two wheels. Tommy now operates a used car garage, "Mauger's Motors." He was always interested in racing cars, so he made a speedway around his home. Here you can see the stockcar races every Saturday evening.

The girl-hater (??) of the class was GARY BUCKWALTER, but this is no longer true. He was the first of the boys to get married and is now manager of his wife's hosiery store.

Winnie told Beega that she had seen ARTHUR QUACKENBOS the past Sunday when she attended a service in his church, "The First Church of Glasgow." Since Arthur became pastor of the church, there has been a sharp rise in the membership.

"That concludes the roll call," said Beega. "Your friends of '51 seem to be prosperous and happy, and many have achieved fame."

"Thank you," said Winnie and Wicky. And they went back home, satisfied with their visit.

"Dear Diary"

After Winnie and Wicky had located all the members of the class of '51 by means of Beega Evans' magic sheet, they began to exchange reminiscences of events in the history of the class. In going through Beega Evans' collections they discovered a dust-covered diary, which contained outstanding events of the high school years of the class.

"Look, here is the account of their freshman year," said Wicky. Winnie took the diary and began to read.

"Dear Diary: September 3rd. Today we elected our class officers. Our new president is Bill Calahan, vice-president Robert Creman, secretary, Betty Cooper, and treasurer Elma Stoudt. We are happy to see so many new faces in our midst because of the additional pupils who came to us from Monocacy and South Coventry.

"October 12th. Tonight we attended a Halloween party. This one was at Charlie Lanthorn's home where we danced and played games until we were so tired we just had to go home and crawl into bed.

"October 31st. We have just come home from our Freshman Halloween dance. The merry-makers received their fill of thrills and chills as they passed through the freshmen's own creation, the "Chamber of Horrors." Every one had a "spooky" time.

"Friday, March 20th. What a day this turned out to be! Our class put on a science assembly for Mr. Spannuth. No doubt we made history, in the line of assembly programs. Larry Reiller, Bob Creman, Richard Smith, and Francis Held looked perfectly sane as they modeled girls' clothes.

"June 7th. The last day of our freshman year. Our homeroom teachers, Mr. Smith and Mr. Spannuth, are probably glad to see this day come. There were some sad faces when report cards were handed to us, but most of us are looking forward to being tenth graders in September.

Winnie turned the page of the diary to our sophomore record. She adjusted her glasses and this is what she read.

"September 1st. We have just concluded a hot political campaign complete with posters and parades. After two days of campaigning we elected the following: president, Patty Grandos; vice-president, Oscar Darlington; secretary, Betty Cooper; treasurer, Elma Stoudt.

"Some of us are in Room 5 with Mr. Spannuth, and the others are with Mr. Buckwalter in Room 1.

"February 10th. A fun day. We have spent the day decorating for our Sophomore Valentine Hop. The gym is covered with red and white streamers, and large red hearts. We're tired, but we'll all be back for the dance. P.S. (After the dance) It was a wonderful night—lots of fun for everybody. By means of a drawing contest, Charlie Murray and Jane Shaner were chosen King and Queen of Hearts.

"March 11th. Today our class presented a one act play entitled, "Make Room for Recre." The characters were Mary Hanley, Vicky George, Marian Grubb, Frances Rigter, Richard Smith, Gary Buckwalter, Robert Jones, and Melvin Scherlt. Directors were June Lavery and Oscar Darlington, with Mr. Smith as advisor.

"March 12th. Since Patty left school in January, Oscar Darlington has taken over her duties. We are in the midst of that big problem that causes so much discussion, the choice of a class ring.

"Dear Diary"

"March 25th. We just voted and chose the flag that pleases the majority. We think we have selected an unusually striking arrangement of the school insignia.

"May 20th. The performance which we gave today was a great success. We stopped the show when we sang 'All Right, Louie, Drop The Gun,' in honor of Mr. Buckwalter."

When I turned to June, 1949, but nothing was written under that date. "Well," she exclaimed in surprise, "evidently they didn't do anything in June." But she was mistaken, for on the next page was a report of a trip that had been taken after school was over.

She read "June 21st. Mr. Alderfer took us to the Philadelphia Zoo today. The group consisted of Martha Holt, Wanda Tobias, Vicky George, Jane Lavery, Jane Camaho, Jean Oleka, Edith Richards, Anne Thompson, and Martha's sister-in-law, who drove one car while Mr. Alderfer drove the other.

"After making the acquaintance of the various inhabitants of the zoo, we went to Montgomery County Park to swim and to eat. We returned home about 10 p.m., tired and happy."

Wicky took the book from Wanda and hunted for the June news. He found it on page 75. "This must have been an important year," said Wicky. "Listen!"

"September 7th. We are back in school again. Half of our classmates are in Room 10 with Mr. Baker. The others are in Room 22 with Mrs. Lynch. Class officers are almost the same as last year. Oscar Farrington, president, Richard Smith, vice-president, Betty Cooper, secretary, Edna Stoult, treasurer.

"November 20th. Mr. Baker reminded us that we would need money for Washington next year, so we are undertaking a magazine sale.

"December 4th. The proceeds of the sale brought me good credit to some of our class. Now we must look forward to our class play.

"February 17th. We seem to be famous for our assembly programs. This time we performed as pupils from Mr. Clark's English classes, putting on a Brotherhood Week program, "The Story of Henry." Using a musical play as a medium, we showed how Jimmy (James Jones) was stricken with the disease racial prejudice. He was finally cured by the family physician, (William Jones). We think we convinced everyone of the folly of prejudices. Highlights of the program included vocal solos by June Camaho and Gary Buckwalter.

"April 13th. This was the big night for those with dramatic talent. Our mystery comedy 'Ghost Wanted' offered our audience laughter and suspense and was enthusiastically received. Mr. Smith was our patient and capable coach.

April 28th. Another big event on the agenda—the Junior-Senior Prom. Our theme was "Twilight Time," and the gym was transformed into a lively spot, decorated in our class colors, rose and silver. We danced from dusk until midnight to the music of Bob Hartman's orchestra. After intermission, we crowned the King and Queen of Twilight Time—James Orandish and Phyllis Fulmer. Memories of that happy evening will stay with us for a long time.

"June 1st. Many juniors went on the Travel Club trip up the Hudson River to West Point. The continuous rain failed to dampen our spirits.

"June 6th. The thrill of the year was the moment on Commencement Night, when our class president received the mantle from Stephen Bodolus, president of the class of '50. Now we are seniors; it's hard to realize that we are standing on the threshold of our greatest year."

"Dear Diary"

"September 7th, 1950, is the next date," said Winnie.

"Today was the first day of school. We are all in Room 9 with Miss Delp as home room teacher. Mr. Alderfer and Mrs. Clark, along with Miss Delp, are our class advisors."

"The pages ~~from~~ September 11th, 12th, and 13th are full," remarked Wicky, "but we will read all about the Washington trip when we get out the yearbook, so I'll skip that part."

"September 22nd. We elected class officers. Darlington and Smith are still president and vice president. There's a change in the other two offices, Shirley Stauffer will be our secretary and we have two treasurers to check on our complicated finances—Anne Thompson and Robert Yergey."

"October 2nd. We have ~~various~~ and ~~commissions~~ to sell and are sending for Christmas cards. So we'll soon be busy working off our credits."

"November 6th. Forty prospects for ads for the senior play program were apportioned. We're really burning up shoe leather trying to carry on all these financial ventures."

"Thanksgiving Day, November 23rd. This year our football team, led by Captain Francis Wampler, captured the Little Four trophy of the Perkiomen-Schuylkill Valley League."

"December 8th. Our class play is over, after two nights of presentation. It was "Clementine," a comedy about teen-agers. The cast fitted their roles perfectly."

"March 3rd. After much head-scratching for an idea, Robert Cassman got the brilliant thought of making the theme of our senior dance a deck of cards. The decorations were very clever. Christine Swavely and Donald Sherry were elected "Joker and Jokers," crowned, and presented with gifts. A big crowd, including lots of visitors from other schools, attended the dance."

"April 27th. It was our turn to be Prom guest tonight—no worries for us this year about decorations and music. The decorations, a 'Fairyland in Pastel' were lovely, George Weller and his orchestra provided excellent dance music; altogether it was a perfect evening."

"June 1st. Well, okay, frankly we amazed ourselves by getting through Class Night so well. After all those confused and sketchy rehearsals—we must be geniuses, that's all!"

"Sunday, June 3rd. Our Baccalaureate Night was a very serious occasion and we behaved with all the necessary formality. Guess most people were so serious because we realized how close we are to the end of our school years. Baccalaureate was held in St. John's Lutheran Church, South Pottstown. Reverend George F. Ichorn preached a very inspirational sermon."

"June 5th. It's simply incredible. To think that it's over—Commencement, of course. Now we have that precious piece of paper, a diploma, to show that we have completed our ~~studies~~ in high school. Dr. Harry V. Masters, the speaker of the evening, gave us some good advice and plenty of worthwhile ideas to think about as we go out into life."

"June 10th. This morning we marched to the last assembly, where we occupied seats of honor on the stage. Although we had looked forward to this day, we felt sad at the thought of leaving the school and being separated from our classmates. So with high hopes for the days ahead and kind thoughts of those to whom we must say 'Good-bye,' we write ~~finis~~ to this chapter of our lives and turn to the pages of the future."

CLASS OF '52

To the Seniors of '51 we, the Juniors of North Coventry High School, wish to extend our most hearty wishes for a happy and successful life. We hope you will be well rewarded for the years you have so faithfully given here.

We, as well as the Seniors, have spent many wonderful years in North Coventry. Every dance and every competitive sport has had great enjoyment for all. The Junior-Senior Prom seems to top off each year just right with its delightful decorations and atmosphere of glamor. Our class play, "Straws for Two," was a tremendous hit, displaying the dramatic ability of many of our class. This project also aided us financially.

We owe much of our success as Juniors to our class officers—William Rhymer, president; Donald Shensley, vice-president; Marty Berenson, secretary; Barbara Edly, treasurer—and also our class advisor—Miss Lynch, Mr. Baker, and Miss McCordle—who have led us to the gateway of the goal we are about to obtain.

We, the seniors-to-be, hope that we can set as fine an example as has been set for us by these Seniors of '51. We shall endeavor to gain and maintain the good will of our schoolmates and the faculty member by conducting ourselves as good citizens of North and by using our knowledge.

So to the Seniors we say: "May you go as much for the world into which you go as you have done for North Coventry in the past."

1. The first step is to identify the problem or question that needs to be answered. This involves understanding the context and the specific requirements of the task.

2. Next, gather relevant information and data. This may involve research, consultation with experts, or collecting data from various sources.

3. Once the information is gathered, analyze it to identify patterns, trends, and potential solutions. This step often involves critical thinking and problem-solving skills.

4. After analysis, develop a plan or strategy to address the problem. This plan should outline the steps to be taken and the resources needed.

5. Implement the plan and monitor progress. This involves putting the strategy into action and regularly checking on the results to ensure they are on track.

6. Finally, evaluate the outcome and make adjustments as needed. This step involves reflecting on what worked well and what could be improved for future tasks.

Variable	Coefficient	Standard Error	t-Statistic
Age	0.05	0.02	2.50
Sex	0.10	0.05	2.00
Education	-0.05	0.03	-1.67
Income	0.02	0.01	2.00
Urban/Rural	0.15	0.08	1.88
Adjusted R-squared	0.15

1950 FOOTBALL WILDCATS

The North Coventry football team of 1950 was small in number but great in spirit and determination. The Cats played through the season with no more than seventeen men on the squad. Despite the lack of manpower, the Cats mustered a respectable record of five wins and four losses in the Perkiomen-Schuylkill Valley League. They also won the championship of the Little Four, and were the swing team of the circuit.

Thanks to the superb coaching of Mr. William Paloantonio, and to the hard conditioning the players received, there were very few mishaps throughout the season.

NORCO ROLLS OVER COLLEGEVILLE, 13-8

The driving legs of Franny Wampler brought the Wildcats victory in their inaugural game of the season. The Cats' running backs drove up the middle on one twenty-three straight line backs to seal the win for the Cats. The Norco boys were head at bay over the fast later period, but, when the center of the line started opening wide for Wampler in the final stanza, the fat was in the fire. A recovered fumble by Bob Rhymen of the Collegeville 50 yard line pass threw the backs gave the Wildcats the winning touchdown. The extra point came via a pass by Wampler to Bill Jones.

ROYERSFORD SQUASHES WILDCATS, 42-6

A big tough Royersford team spelled too much for a dogged Norco eleven and gave the Cats their first loss of the season. Although Norco played hard, Royersford took advantage of a few intercepted passes to set up four touchdowns. After the Eagles scored two touchdowns in the opening quarter, the Wildcats couldn't breathe until the final seconds were ticking off the clock. This came when Fanny Wampler hit "Snap" Jones with a bullseye pass which covered some thirty-five yards.

NORCO LOSES HEARTBREAKER TO BOYERTOWN, 27-12

The Boyertown Bears took advantage of fine blocking in the third period and scored on an 80-and kicked return which took the wind out of the Wildcats' sails. The first half was a tough battle and the war was won by the score in favor of Boyertown 14-0. Norco scored on a pass from Francis Wampler to Bill Jones, good for a sixty yard touchdown thanks to an excellent block thrown by Charles Murray. The next score came when Wampler squirmed off tackle and picked up good blocking by Rhyaner, Bledsoe, Jones and Wampler, to counter on a 65 yard broken field run. After the first half, the Cats' port machine could not get to long, therefore they dropped a hard played game.

EAST GREENVILLE CRUSHES CATS, 43-0

Slippery Mike Dineen of East Greenville couldn't be stopped by the Norco's defense. Although the Wildcats played a vicious brand of ball through the four quarters, the Greenville avalanche could not be stopped. Norco picked up substantial gains and threatened a few times but pay dirt could not be found. A few long pass plays which were completed by the Cats, kept the game from being a runaway, and gave the Greenville boys something to think about.

WILDCATS CRIMP WYOMISSING, 21-6

The Norco boys met the Wyomissing Sunsets in their home head and drove them to defeat, by way of a well balanced scoring attack. The scoring opened in the first quarter, when Wampler picked a twenty yard aerial into the waiting arms of Francis Wampler, who took it in the end zone. Wampler's punts kept the spirits and the score read 7-0. But after the kickoff to the Sunsets, they marched 80 yards on a sustained drive which made the score at the quarter 7-6. The score stayed the way until the middle of the third quarter when Tiny Beidler turned end for a thirty five yard T.D. In the fourth quarter, "Snap" Jones glue fingered a Sunset pass and ran unmolested for forty yards for the final score. Wampler passed to Jones for the extra point thus concluding the scoring for the day. Thanks to the Wildcats' hard charging line, the Wyomissing boys could not get started after the first quarter.

SPRING CITY SQUEEZES BY CATS, 19-12

Two blocked kicks turned this hard-fought contest into a victory for the Pirates of Spring City. The Wildcats ran everywhere but up the goal posts but they could not capitalize on the breaks of the game.

In the first quarter Spring City opened the scoring, when Horace Carl broke in from his end position to knock Wampler's punt. After blocking it down, the ball rolled into the end zone and Carl fell upon it. This made the score 7-0. But Norco came back on a 60 yard drive, finished off by a 5 yard plunge over the goal line. The extra point was no good and the score read 7-6. In the second quarter Dick Rosen plunger over for Spring City's second T.D. In the third quarter, the Pirates blocked another Cat punt which set up their final score. Rosen drove over from the five yard line to make it 19-6. In the fourth quarter, Larry Beidler shot off tackle for an eleven-yard T.D.

NORCO PULVERIZES SCHWENKSVILLE, 27-0

Hard working Francis Wampler guided Norco High to its third victory by scoring three times against the Blackbirds. The first touchdown came on a fifty yard drive, climaxed by a plunge from the one yard stripe by Wampler. Again in the third and fourth games Wampler found pay dirt in the same manner. Then late in the last quarter Wayne Farmer, a reserve halfback, drove off tackle for two yards for the final score.

WILDCATS STEM PENNSBURG, 33-7

With Francis Wampler and Wampler Beidler hitting pay dirt two times each and Gary Buckwater scoring another, the Norco boys drove over Pennsburg High for their fourth win of the season. This game offered many scoring opportunities for the Cats, because their hard-charging line was opening holes large enough to drive a truck through. Norco scored in every period of the game and gave the fans something to talk about when they reeled off many long runs.

NORCO TRIUMPHS OVER WEST POTTSBORO, 13-0

The Wildcats brought home to North Coventry the Perk's League Crown of the "Little Four Conference" on Thanksgiving day. Soon after the opening kickoff Francis Wampler drove over from the four yard line for the first score. In the second period, Wampler carried an off-tackle punt play for the second touchdown; Wampler added the extra point and the score was 13-0. The second half was pretty a defensive game, but the Cats dug in and kept the hopeful Falcons from scoring.

NORCO'S BEST

In the fall of 1950, ten cheerleaders were chosen from a group of twenty-one girls, including those returning from last year's squad. The girls each did several cheers before the judges, who were all members of the faculty. The two girls receiving the highest rating were Vicky George and Jane Camacho, who were chosen co-captains. The rest of the squad consisted of Rosalyn Butler and Madelon Totay, juniors, Shirley Kellar, Barbara Cressman, Patsy Loughan and Adele Miller, co-juniors, Jean Smith and Nancy Orandosh, freshmen.

These girls were always on the front line, cheering their teams to victory. Their efforts were rewarded, for our football team won the "Perk" League Class B trophy, and the basketball team came out on top as the Class C Champions of our district, thus getting into the district play-off.

The greatest of all our pep rallies was the one that climaxed our football season, the day before Thanksgiving. The football team broke through a huge football on the stage and was greeted by loud cheers from the student body. The band added to the enthusiasm, while it played the school songs.

On December 2nd, a successful Cheerleaders' Dance was held in honor of the football team. The gym was decorated with banners from the pep rallies and with posters congratulating the football team upon its fine work.

Throughout the year, the cheerleaders raised enough money to purchase new uniforms for next year's use. Miss Deep, who is the cheerleaders' able and competent advisor, was a help and inspiration throughout the season.

We want to thank the students for their support and enthusiasm at all the games. Their wonderful spirit helped Norco High to "Make That Goal."

HOCKEY

Hockey is only a memory to the girls who played the 1950 season—memories of evenings of strenuous drill under the coaching of Miss Doris Lynch, of hard-fought games, of rejoicing over victories, of disappointments over defeats.

The varsity was made up of one senior, eight juniors, and two sophomores. This group was sparked by a capable captain, Christine Swavely, '52.

Our only regular senior player, Joyce Giles, was our most versatile hockeyist. She claimed right inner as her position, but in the course of the season, played almost every position. She was out there fighting for her position, and for the honor of her team, every time the ball around the goal. A senior, Jane Canale, was of help to us when we were having shortages. Although Jane was unable to practice with us, several times she filled in on the junior varsity and did a nice job.

The varsity ended the year with three wins and five losses, a record which does not reveal entirely some of the good playing, the cooperation of the Norcoites, and the hard times we gave those opponents who won by only one point. As we lost but one player we anticipate a better 1951 season.

The junior varsity, captained by Phyllis McCrudden, had a better record, with five wins, two defeats, and one tie—with Collegeville Trappe.

The season did not bring all the victories we wanted, but the girls feel that we have achieved more than the winning of games. The playing at all times was marked by good sportsmanship and a friendly feeling between rivals.

We owe much to our coach, Miss Lynch, who worked so hard with us. She was a cheerful, patient, and capable leader, helping us at all times. The senior player bids you all farewell, with these words: "Goodbye and good luck, girls, and always keep before you our motto: 'The team that can't be beat won't be beat.'"

BOYS' BASKETBALL

The Cat quintet of '50 and '51 broke every scoring record in the history of North Coventry. The star happy Wildcats amassed a total of 1,146 points in 19 games. The Norco team also won the Class C championship of the Perkiomen-Schuylkill Valley League, but lost to Jenkintown by three points in the District I playoffs.

The scoring for the Wildcats was done chiefly by four players. They were Gene Clemens, ace man of the team with 362 points; Os Darlington, with 265; Bill Jones, with 234; and Gary Buckwalter with 139 points. The top scoring effort made by any team in Norco history came from the hands of this Norco quintet, when they chalked up 89 points against Collegeville. The record for one game in scoring was made by Gene Clemens, who bagged 37 points against West Pottsgrove. Leading in assists was Bob Cressman, the pass master of the team.

CLASSICS OF THE YEAR

NORCO NICKS SCHWENKSVILLE

In a game played at the Schwenksville court, the Wildcats fought off a stubborn battle of Blunders by a 46-45 count. They found Bender's only goal of the evening in the last two seconds saved the game. Gray Buckwalter had stolen the ball and missed a "lay-up," after which Bender was right on the spot to score the winning points. The scoring leaders of the night were Os Darlington with 15 markers and Buckwalter with 13 points.

NORCO WHIPS PENNSBURG, 54-52

The Wildcats took over second place in the Perk League for the first time in the season, when they defeated the Pennsburg Bulldogs on the Cats' court. By this win Norco became the top class C team and at that point in the season needed only three victories in Pennsburg's defeat or a combination of both to win the championship.

Pennsburg led all the way until the opening of the fourth quarter, when Jones, Darlington, and Clemens each scored to put Norco ahead 46-44. The Cats' lead was boosted to 50-44 at the close by Darlington and Clemens. The Bulldogs came rushing back to tie the score at 50. Clemens was a jump shot after which Charley Thomas sent a sizzler from mid-court to knot the score once more. With twenty seconds left Clemens started the deciding goal, to give Norco the win.

Clemens was high scorer, with 18 points, while Darlington had 17 to his credit.

NORCO BEATS GREENIES

After engulfing twenty-six straight Perk League foes, East Greenville finally met its match and lost to Norco, 76-66, on the Wildcats' court.

Norco took the lead early in the game, using a zone defense to keep down the Greenies' scoring. At the quarter, Norco led 18-16, but increased this margin to 40-35 at the half. The Wildcats outscored their foe, 35-31, in the second half, bringing the score to a 75-66 total. This was the Perk League upset of the year.

Bill Jones was high for Norco with 24 points. Clemens, Darlington and Buckwalter followed with 18, 18, and 14 points respectively. High scorers for the Greenies were Oplinger, Miller, and Swenk with 20, 18, and 11, in that order.

NORCO ENTERS DISTRICT PLAY-OFF

In the first interleague playoff that North Coventry has ever played, the Wildcats took a 52-49 nipping at the hands of Jenkintown.

Jenkintown started with four quick goals before Norco sighted their basket. Darlington then scored a foul and a field goal, while the Jenks still galloped on, to a 14-3 total at the quarter.

In the second quarter Jones caught fire with five field goals. Buckwalter and Clemens each tossed a field goal to put Norco right back in the game at half time 22-17.

The third quarter was a more evenly matched one, but still Norco was outscored, 22-19. In the last quarter Darlington and Clemens each made three goals to make up twelve of the Cats' fourteen points. In the last quarter Norco closed the gap to 52-49 by outscoring the Jenks, 14-8, but the desperate effort didn't net quite enough points.

Clarence and Jim Watts were high men for the Jenks, with 24 and 12 points respectively; while Jones was the leader for Norco with 18 points. Clemens and Darlington followed with 17 and 10 points.

WASHINGTON TRIP

On a rainy Monday morning, September 11, at seven o'clock, the seniors boarded a Greyhound bus to start on our long-awaited trip to Washington, under the supervision of our chaperons, Miss Delp and Mr. Baker. The first part of our journey was rather quiet, except for a few rounds of laughter, caused by some "corny" senior jokes. No doubt most of us were thinking of the excitement in store for us or perhaps we were tired from the unusually early rising hour. It isn't every morning at seven that one catches a bus to Washington.

Our first stop, the Oxford Greyhound Bus Station, was the midpoint of our trip. Our half-hour stay gave some of us a chance to fill up on a second breakfast, while others, especially the girls, "freshened up" a bit. Jack, our singing driver, then called us back to the bus and we were off on the last leg of the journey.

There could be no lovelier place for our first stop in the capital city than the Franciscan Monastery. Here we saw many beautiful reproductions of the original monasteries in Rome. Some of our playful companions wanted to stay there and play trick and seek on the catwalks. However, we came out to enjoy the lovely gardens.

A short drive brought us to the Hotel Lafayette, where the boys helped to carry in our bags, and where we all checked in for our rooms. Following a quick change and a rush for the elevators, we were all together again in a private dining-room for lunch. Ah! What service! And the food! What service! But then, wild dreams and gawk would have tasted good after that long ride.

Immediately after lunch we visited the Jefferson Memorial, where our class photograph was taken. A few seconds later rain began to fall and we scuttled for the bus. By the time we arrived at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, the rain had stopped, but just long enough to see the guard march back and forth three or four times. It was an unlucky break for the girls, however, they could not see whether the guard ever flirted with pretty girls while on duty. Betty Cooper and Joyce Gries entertained all passers-by with their race down the steps in their stocking feet.

The next point of interest was Mt. Vernon. We enjoyed the quaint gardens, laid out just as Mount Vernon planned them, and the beautiful mansion, furnished as it was in the days of our first president.

By this time we had worked up good appetites for our dinner at the hotel. The entertainment for Monday evening was a moonlight cruise up the Potomac River on a pleasure yacht, the U. S. S. Mount Vernon. Most of us danced, while others watched the "Harbor Lights." Upon our return to the hotel, we checked in for a good night's sleep—at least, that's what a few of us attempted to do. But some time during the late (and early) hours, pillows began to fly, races were staged up and down the hall, and queer shouts were heard. Strange how quiet time flew! It seemed that we had had only a few minutes of sleep when the telephone rang and a voice said, "It is now 6:15. Breakfast will be served at 7:30."

So up and at 'em for another breath-taking day. On Tuesday we visited the F.B.I. Building, the Mint, the Congressional Library, the Capitol Building, the Pan-American Building, the National Art Gallery, Smithsonian Institute and the Washington Monument.

Tuesday evening was our free night, which meant that we could choose our own activity for the evening. Many of us went to an early movie, after which we explored part of the city. Some went swimming in the beautiful pool at the Ambassador Hotel. All of us got a glimpse of Washington which was very different from the usual tourist attractions.

Tuesday night in the hotel was another unforgettable one, but we did manage to squeeze in a little sleep. On Wednesday we awoke to see another cloudy sky above us. The morning tour took us first to St. Anselm's Cathedral. The part of the church that is completed was constructed largely through many small individual contributions. Our class gave enough money to add one more stone to this beautiful shrine of religious devotion. On the way back to our hotel, we saw the homes of various delegations and representatives from foreign nations.

Regrettably we ate our lunch—the last meal in Washington. Then we packed our clothing and souvenirs and climbed aboard the bus. We proceeded to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, where we toured the grounds, went into the chapel, gymnasium, and training ship. There was much a thrill and heart flutter among our girls. There's something about a uniform that causes this reaction.

The last stop of the trip was the bus restaurant near Oxford, where we ate the last meal of our trip. Could it be only three days since we had stopped there for breakfast? Yes, only three days, but among the best of our life, and days that we shall never forget.

The home-coming stretch was an exciting one. The air was filled with songs, jokes, giggles, and tears. Before long we recognized familiar landmarks and then we were back at the school on Norco Hill. Friends and families were there to meet us, all happy to have us home again. We were glad to relax and get a good night's sleep, but the next day when it was time to resume school work, many of us thought longingly of those days in Washington, filled to the brim with new places, sights, sounds, and adventures.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM, 1950

The biggest social event of our junior year was the Junior-Senior Prom. We can truthfully say that we had decided things well in advance, for we started planning for the Prom in the middle of the winter, even though the date was set for April 29th.

Our theme, "Twilight Time," was worked out in our class colors, rose and silver. The walls of the auditorium were completely covered by rose-colored streamers and garlands of silver flowers. In the center of the ceiling draped with streamers and twinkling with hundreds of silver stars was a huge revolving ball covered with mirrors and surrounded by colored lights. The stage beautifully decorated with green grass and two huge rose arbors, formed an attractive setting for Ben Hartman and his orchestra.

Our "King and Queen of Twilight Time," James Orandosh and Phyllis Fulmer, were seated on silver thrones in the center of the balcony. The coronation took place during intermission, with our class president, Oscar Darlington, crowning the royal couple.

Surely the class of '51 can remember with pride the artistic achievements of that gala occasion. The Prom will ever be a memory of delight and excitement.

Glimpses of the Future_____

Gathered around Beega Eva's invention was a group of seniors from '51, eager to find what might be in store for future seniors at Norco.

Beega Eva turned the set to the year 1952. Here we saw Lila Hatcher taking over the job of editor of the "Norco News" and also designing the yearbook cover. In this same scene we saw Lowell Mull getting gray hair from worrying about his position as editor.

In the school sports world Clifford Carty appeared as third baseman on the girls' softball team of which Carl Fisco was the pitcher. Carl had pitched nine perfect games, and as a result the girls were undefeated for the season.

In the next scene the "great day" was just a few weeks away and William Rhymer was bracing the crowd in anticipation of commencement. The commencement exercises of the year of '52 appeared and Betty Jane Laughlin stepped forward to receive Mrs. Shuchman's mathematics award. Kenneth Keen received the award for music.

Here we come to the end of another wonderful year; and, as we looked in on the seniors of '53, we found Fred Kerhn busily raising pigs to supply ham for all the Norco banquets.

Music lovers will be happy to know that William Powell has taken over the duties of Mr. Lamb and now conducts the Norco band.

Next was a scene from Boys' Night, with John Petrick and Cary Shaner demonstrating their ability to do a new dance step. James Stoudt was leading a Congo line which wound its way through the audience picking up new prospects.

Shirley Kellar was very busy as chairman of the committee to pick a theme for the Junior-Senior Prom.

Setting to the year 1954, we found Doris Faye Darlington taking over the presidential duties of her class.

A flight light preceded the display of diamond rings by Viola Trump, Nancy Davidson, Mary Ann Camaho and Faye Faust.

In a scene from the sports world Walter Cole, with ten knockouts to his credit, won the heavyweight title in the inter-scholastic boxing tournaments at Norco.

Work on the yearbook had begun and we saw Thomas Piccola as a photographer frantically taking photographs of his classmates.

The next scene disclosed that Nicholas Hornak and Mary Kazimer had been chosen king and queen of the Prom.

In the class of '55 Phyllis Dahms was chosen as "Miss Senior" of her class.

In the following scene Ralph Henl was seen displaying all the A's on his report card, especially those in spelling.

In the year of '56 we saw quite a few startling events take place. Short David Lafferty had, by the time sprinted to an even 10 feet. In the library Betty Ann Clark was found taking over her mother's duties as librarian.

Looking through the doorway into the office we saw Leta Mae Dawson conscientiously filing papers for Mr. Gray. In Room 3 a bevy of young "femmes" was found swarming around Charles Smith, popular swain of the day.

In the gym we found that Lorraine Jones had taken first prize in Miss Lynch's dancing class.

Speaking of prizes, Frank Czarnek and Robert Cisek won prizes on the pole vaulting team. John Yessow had developed into a general handyman and was helping the janitor to make necessary repairs in and about the school.

THE NORCO WILDCAT

EVERY HIGH SCHOOL HAS A LEGEND
PASSED ON FROM YEAR TO YEAR,
TO WHICH THEY PLEDGE ALLEGIANCE
AND ALWAYS CHERISH DEAR;
BUT OF ALL THE HONORED IDOLS,
THERE'S BUT ONE WHICH STANDS THE TEST—
IT'S THE STATELY NORCO WILDCAT,
THE SYMBOL OF OUR BEST.

CHORUS:

HAIL TO THE WILDCAT, LOYALLY BRED!
HAIL, ALMA MATER, WITH YOUR
WHITE AND RED!
NORCO FOREVER, MOULDER OF MEN!
FIGHT FOR HER HONOR
